CLEANING THE EAST SIDE.

New Market Rules Rigidly Enforced and Streets Washed.

The new regulations, compelling east side and Mulberry Bend street markets to open at 7 A. M. and close business at 10 A. M., were strictly enforced this morning.

The execution of this mandate was then followed by a small army of street sweepers of the city Department, whose work was quickly supplemented by a corps of firemen, equipped with hose, carts. The latter then drenched the streets and gave them a washing down such as they have seldom, if ever, seen.

The ostensible object of the Ablegate's visit is to be the guest of the Archishop for a few days and incidentally to officiate in the Cathedral to-morrow at the ceremonies attending the celebration of the feast of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

It is said, however, that Mgr. Satolli's presence will be the result of a determination of Archishop Corrigan to put at rest all reports of the so-called differences between him and the Pone's American representative. A delegation of prices will be on hand at the Jersey City depot to welcome Mgr. Satolli when the train pulls in at 145 o'clock this afternoon.

THE SILVER DEBATE.

Mr. Warner Enlivens It with & Little Dramatic Effect.

Declaring New York Members' Fealty to the Chicago Platform.

National Bank Bill in the Senate

Indorsed by Mr. Caritale.

WAHINGTON, Aug .1 .- The silver debate in the House this morning was enlivened by a little sensation sprung by John De Witt Warner, of New York. Mr. Warner arose in his place and declared that every member of the New York delegation in Congress stood by the money planks in the National platform, adopted at Chicago, and was prepared to fight for it to the end of the ession. It was not exactly Mr. Warner's declaration that made the rensation, but the dramatic way in which he brought it in.

Before getting back to the debate, this morning, the House heard the appointment of the Committees on Enrolled Bills and on Accounts and Mileage, presided over respectively by Messrs. Pearson, of Ohio, Rusk and Lynch. A resolution was also adopted making the mileage appropriation for 1894 immediately available. In this prompt action shone forth again the always tender Congressional regard for the Congressman's own pocket.

When the debate was resumed Mr.

Boatner, (Dem., La.), arese to make the first speech of the morning, which was one for free coinage. The programme was that Mesers. Layton, of Ohio, and Patterson, of Tennessee, should follow for the repealers, and then Messrs. Bailey, of Texas, and Pendleton, of Missouri, for the silver men.

The House discussion continued according to programme, but in a rath r desultory manner, and the attention ac-corded to it was decidedly listeless.

Mr. Boatner charged that the advo-cates of the Wilson bill -the gold men of the Democratic party and of the publican party-were responsible for the excitement which had created the detruction of public confidence and which had caused the runs upon banking institutions.

They had sowed the wind and were eaping the whirlwind, and they alone were responsible for the present finan-
